What if you could fast-forward your college education and save on tuition while serving your country?

You can, with the DSST Credit by Exam Program. A form of prior learning assessment, DSST allows you to earn college credits by passing an exam outside the traditional classroom. DSST exams allow military personnel and veterans to further their educational goals while being deployed, on a military base or after term of service is completed.

Exams are Funded by DANTES

As an active duty, guard or reserve military member, your first attempt on any DSST exam is funded by DANTES. You can take any exam at an on-base or on-campus facility. More than 500 military installations deliver Internet-based DSST exams across the globe, making it easier than ever for service members to gain valuable educational credentials while on active duty.

Veterans

Veterans eligible for the Post 9/11 GI Bill can be reimbursed for DSST exams. DSST is an approved VA National Testing Program.

Facts about DSST

- Exams are offered in more than 30 subjects
- All exams have been evaluated and recommended for credit by the American Council on Education (ACE)
- Credits are accepted by over 1,900 institutions
- Exams are offered at over 1,200 institutions
- As low as $80 per 3-credit exam

Whether you want to get credit for a subject you already know well, or you're studying to pass an exam that will allow you to take higher level courses, taking DSST exams is a smart strategy for degree seekers.

DSST is for active duty, guard and reserve military members, veterans and anyone who is:

- Already enrolled in college
- Thinking of going back to school
- Graduating high school

"DSST exams are cost effective, time efficient, and focused; what's not to like?"

- John K.

"I completed my degree with this exam. I'm grateful. I saved not only money but time. I will spread the word on this great way to get credit."

- Elva C.

"With my family moving around so much, it was hard to keep my academic studies up to speed. DSST exams helped me earn college credit while on active duty. I also saved tuition assistance dollars. Thanks!"

- Dan J.

"Less than a month before I retired from the Navy, I found out I was 8 credits short of my degree. I was floored. I could not be hired without the degree, meaning my family would have a hard time making ends meet. I visited a DANTES office and found three DSST exams that would provide the credits I needed. With those credits, I earned my degree and got a job. DSST literally saved my life."

- Scott P.

DSST can help you:

- Get college credit even when deployed overseas
- Work toward your college degree in your own time
- Get those electives out of the way
- Make up for missed courses

Steps to Get College Credit with DSST:

1. Find Out Your School's Policy

Talk to your Base Education Office and college officials to find out their DSST acceptance policy and passing score requirements.

2. Choose Your Exams

Look over our exam list and decide on the exams you want to take. Your Base Education Office can help you.

3. Schedule Your Exam

Find a test center near you at getcollegecredit.com. Select the "Locate an Institution" tab. Look for the DANTES-funded military test centers if you are taking a funded exam. Self-funded exams can be taken at any of the other 1,200 test centers nationwide.

4. Review Test Preparation Materials

Passing a DSST exam is like passing a final. And you wouldn't go into a final unprepared, would you? To make sure you're ready for your DSST exam, start by downloading the exam "fact sheet" that includes a content outline, sample questions and reference materials. Visit the "Test Preparation" tab at getcollegecredit.com. Additional study guides, practice exams and online tutorials are also available.

5. Take Your Exam

As an active duty, guard or reserve military member, your first attempt on any DSST exam is funded by DANTES, so don't delay! Start earning college credit now to save time, save money and graduate sooner.

6. Get Credit

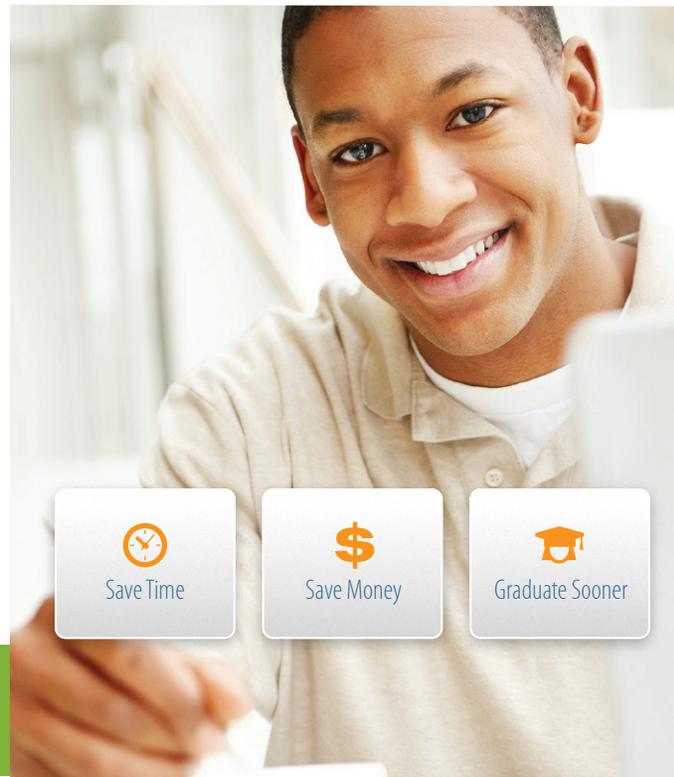

Your official score will be sent to the transcript service office of your military branch and the designated academic institution of your choice.
